Susana Orta López, Cantante Cubana shines as her initials (SOL, 'sun' in Spanish) She is simply amazing, even without singing a single note! Shivers and smiles guaranteed! Her charisma can inspire audiences gathered in small halls, in which intimacy awakens emotions. As does the Victoria Hall with the Geneva Chamber Orchestra (LOCG), the Lakelive Festival, Montreux and many others. She worked especially with the Cuban vocal group Novel Voz, with whom she traveled around the world for 12 years. The ensemble was awarded best vocal group of Cuba in the 2005 Cubadisco Record Fair. In 2011, she left Cuba to settle in Switzerland, where she quickly joined the traditional Siga Volando Charanga Orchestra. Due to her talent as a soloist, she then worked with other groups and projects such as the Septeto Internacional, Flamenco Criollo, Buena Fe, Gala Mayor Band, Salsometro, and many others. Today's expert critics place her within the tradition of great Cuban singers such as Celia Cruz or Omara Portuondo. Praised, she invites you to discover her quickly.

SUSANA O TRIO: is the personal project by Cuban singer Susana Orta López, accompanied by Cuban pianist José Braide and Spanish percussionist Alberto García Navarro, presents a captivating, intimate and touching musical universe; inspired by Afro-Cuban Yoruba songs and her own compositions, arranged with a touch of jazz and Afro-Cuban styles. Music recreates the bright excitement of the sun of the land she comes from.
